MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 21, 1867. We clip the following pretty verses from the Mobile Tribune, and think they are peetry. The author of them should not stop at this production. We submit however, whether "From a Wife to her Husband" is the proper title of the piece: FROM A WIFE TO HER HUSBAND.

> Smile not so brightly from the cup He looks upon! Sweet Circle! Thou last many loves And I but one. False Syren! I thine arts defy; The love-light in those eyes shall shine On me alone.

> I'll deck my lips with sunny smiles
> As bright as thine;
> My cheek shall glow as rosy re.i
> As ruby wine. Ah, could I make sweet Lyra's* notes, Thy soul to move, > Far from thy syron arts I'd bear
> My ransemed Love.

Yet smile no more from out the cup He looks upon; Sweet Circle! Thou hast many loves, And I but one!

Republican Governments for the Late Rebellions States. The following is Mr. THADDEUS STEVENS' Bill, now pending before Congress, to provide "republican governments for the lately rebellious States:" Whereas, the eleven States which lately formed the Government called the "Confederate States of America," have forfeited all their rights under the Constitution, and can be reinstated in the same only through the action of Congress; therefore, only through the action of Congress; therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the eleven States lately in rebellion, except Tennessee, may form valid State governments in the following manner:

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That the State governments now existing de facto, though illegally formed in the midst of martial though inegally formed in the midst of martial law, and in many instances the constitutions were adopted under duress, and not submitted to the ratification of the people, and therefore are not to be treated as free republics, yot they are hereby acknowledged as valid governments for municipal purposes until the same shall be duly altered, and their legislative and exective officers shall be recognized as such.

SECTION 3. And be it further enacted, That es h SECTION 3. And be it further enacted, That es 'n of the ten States which were lately in rebellion, and have not been admitted to representation in Congress, shall hold elections on the first Tuesday of May, 1867, to choose delegates to a convention to form a State government. The convention shall consist of the the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State before the rebellion. It shall meet at the former capital of said State on the first Monday in June of said year, at twelve o'clock noon, with power to adjourn from time to time, and shall proceed to form a State Constitution, which shall be submitted to the people at such time a the convention shall direct, and if ratified by a majority of legal votes shall be declared the Constitution of the State. Congress shall elect a commission for each of said States, to consist of three persons, who shall select, or direct the mode of selecting, each of said States, to consist of three persons, who shall select, or direct the mode of selecting, the election of officers for the several election districts, which districts shall be the same as before the rebellion, unless altered by said commission. The officers shall consist of one jurge and two inspectors of elections, and two clorks; the said officers, together with all the expenses of the election, shall be paid by the United States, and said expenses shall be repaid by said State or Territory. Each of said officers shall receive five dollars per day for the time actually employed. Each of the members of said commission shall receive three thousand dollars per annum and their clerks two thousand dollars. The commission shall procure all the necessary books, stationery clerks two thousand donars. The commission shall procure all the necessary books, stationery and boxes, and make all regulations to effect the objects of this act. The President of the United States and the military commander of the district shall furnish so much military aid as the said company shall doom processary to protect the missioners shall deem necessary to protect the polls and keep the peace at each of said election districts. If, by any means, no election should be held in any of said late States on the day herein fixed, then the election shall be held on the third Monday of May, 1867, in the manner herein premitted. Peturns of all such elections shall be scribed. Returns of all such elections shall be made to the said commissioners, whose certifi-cates of election shall be prima facie evidence of persons who shall be entitled to vote at both of said elections shall be as follows: Al: male citizens above the age of 21 years, who have resided one year in said State, and ten days within the election district.

SECTION 5. And be it further enacted, That the word citizen, as used in this act, shall be construed to mean all persons (except Indians not taxed) born in the United States, or duly naturalized. Any male citizen above the age of 21 years shall be competent to be elected to act as delegate to said SECTION 6. And be it further enacted, That all persons who, on the fourth day of March, 1861, were of full age, who held office, either civil or military, under the government called the "Conmintary, under the government cance the Confederate States of America, or who swore allegiance to said government, are hereby declared to have forfeited their citizenship, and to have renounced allegiance to the United States, and shall not be entitled to exercise the elective franchise or not be entitled to exercise the elective franchise or hold office until five years after they shall have fil-ed their intention or desire to be re-invested with the right of cit zenship, and shall swear allegiance to the United States, and renounce allegiance to all other governments or pretended governments; the sa d application to be filed and oath taken in the same courts that, by law, are authorized to naturalize foreigners; provided, however, that, on taking the following oath, the party, being otherwise qualified, shall be allowed to vote and hold office:

"I, A. B., do solemnly swear, on the Holy Evangely of Almighty God, that on the fourth day of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, and at all times thereafter, I would willingly have comall times thereafter, I would willingly have complied with the requirements of the proclamation of the President of the United States, issued on the eighth day of December, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, had a safe opportunity of so doing been allowed me; that ou the said fourth of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, and at all times thereafter, I was opposed to the continuance of the rebellion, and to the establishment of the so-called rebellion, and to the establishment of the so-called Confederate Government, and voluntarily gave no aid or encouragement the eto, but earnestly desired the success of the Union, and the suppression of all armed resistance to the Government of the United States; and that I will henceforth faithfully support the Constitution of the United States and the Union of the States thereunder."

Section 7. And be it further enacted. That no constitution shall be presented to or acted on by Congress, which denies to any citizen any right, privileges, or immunities which are granted to any

Gur last weekly review closed on a dull and declining market, with a limited inquiry for Middling at 31\(\frac{1}{2}\)\(\text{a}\)\(\text{2}\)\(\text{c}\). On Saturday and Monday there was but little done, and the figures remained about the same. On Tuesday there was a moderate demand, owing to the advance in the gold market, and a slight advance took place, Middling being quoted at 32\(\text{2}\)\(\text{c}\). Both buyers and sellers, however, were not disposed to operate freely, and the transactions were limited. The market was very dull on Wednesday, with a downward tendency, and holders evinced more disposition to operate. But few sales were effected, and those at a nominal decline. On Thursday an active demand prevailed, in consequence of the favorable advices mand prevailed, in consequence of the favorable advices from Europe, and holders exhibited much firmness, with little disposition to operate at 32½c. for Middling. Toifftle disposition to operate at 32%c. for Madding. To-one quite an act o inquiry sprung up much in excess of the supply offering on the market, and an advance on the prices of the previous day of fully %c. was establish-ed, with sales of about 500 bales. We quote Middling at 22c. The market is entirely bare of Strict Middling and Good Middling. It will be seen, from our table above, that the receipts and exports of the past week have been

MOBILE, January 16—Corron.—There has been a good and general demand to-day to fill orders at low limits, but the light and poor stock offering, and general indisposition of factors to sell, except at ideas beyon't hose entertained by buyers, restricted sales to 2200 bales. The market closed quiet, but firm, at IIa31½c for ruiddlings. Sales were made on the basis of both inside and outside quotations. While it is generally conceded that the crop of this year will be comparatively small, yet, from all we can gather, the i mediate future of prices on the other side is not so favorable as was believed a short time since. The experience and losses of the past year have made spinners especially cautious, and they show but little inclina ion to carry stocks beyond what they can readily dispose of in goods. Every one familiar with this market knows that there are and have been but fow Euglish orders in the hands of buyers, and that scarcely a thousand bales have been bought this season for France. The Liverpool Circular published this morning throws out a strong reminder on this subject in the following para raph:

ing throws out a strong reminder on this subject in the following para raph:

On your side of the Atlantic you will feel for some considerable time longer the effects of the scarcity of orders, as, instead of their being sent out as in torner years to the extent of say double the whole quantity of the crop, at present they will barely amount to a touth of it. We consider, therefore, that this fact and its probable effects have not been sufficiently appreciated yet in America.

The above will explain the cause of low limits attached to orders received from abroad. to orders received from abroad.

My Dean Str.: I have great pleasure in asking youto convey to Meesrs. Chickering the expression of my highest approval of their instrument. It is, I consider, not merely the best instrument of American manufacture that I have tried, but one of the florest Grand Pisnofortes that has ever come under my observation; and the Messrs. Chickering may well be proud of having turned out from their manufactory an instrument which, for touch, quality, power and workmanship, it would be very difficult to surpass in any part of the wide world.

Among the chief points of excellence of the Chickering Planes, of which speak the renowned artists in their congratulatory testimonials to the Messra. Chickering, are the greatest possible depth, richness and volume of tone, combined with a rare brilliancy, cleaness and tone, combined with a fate of thinstey, coefficient perfect evenness throughout the entire scale; and, above all, a surprising duration of sound, the pure and sympathetic quality of which never changes under the most delicate or powerful touch.

It is estimated that seven-tenths of all admit aliments proceed from a deceased and torpid liver. The billery secretions of the liver overflowing into the stomati, wellson the entire system and exhibit the above symptom.

After long research, we are able to present the most remarkable cure for these horrid nightmare diseases, the world has ever produced. Within one year over six hundred and forty thousand persons have taken the Plantation Bitters, and not an instance of complaint has come to our knowledge!

It is a most effectual tonic and agreeable stimulant,
suited to all conditions of life.

The reports that it relies upon mineral substances for its active properties, are wholly fasse. For the satisfaction of the public, and that patients may consult their physicians, we append a list of its components.

Oalisata Bark.—Celebrated for over two hundred years in the treatment of Fever and Ague, Dyspepsis, Weskness, etc. It was introduced into Europe by the Count-as, wife of the Viceroy or Peru, in 1640, and afterwards sold by the Jesuits for the enomous price of its som useight in silver, under the name of Jesuits Powders, and was finally made public by Louis XVI. King of France. Humboldt makes especial reference to its febrifuge qualities during his South American travels.

excesses, the effects of climate, or natural causes. Tho time required to cure the most inveterate case is four weeks; and if used according to printed instructions, which are very simple, failure is impossible. This life restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. It is acknowledged by the medical press to be the greatest discovery ever made. Its developing powers are miraculous. Success in every case is as certain as that science overthrows ignorance. Dr. Ricord's Essence of Life is sold in cases, with full instructions for use, at $3, or four quantities in one for $9, and will be sent to any part, carefully packed, on receipt of remittance to his accredited agent.
